Michigan vs. Northwestern October 5, 1996

Northwestern Coach Gary Barnett:

On the team:

What you saw play today was a group of warriors that showed a lot of heart. Our motto was to come through in the defining moments and we did.

On the significance of this game:

These players played in big games last year one game after another. They showed a lot of poise. They had it in them and they reached down to get it.

On the win:

I've coached a lot of big games, but right now there doesn't seem like there's one that's bigger, better, or sweeter than this one.

On the Big Ten:

Ohio State and Penn State are good teams but we want to be part of the Big Ten Rivalries ourselves.

Michigan Coach Lloyd Carr

On the game:

Northwestern should be commended on a great comeback... We have no excuses. We had the game in control and just made too many mistakes... We couldn't get any offense going after the first drive of the second half. Our defense was on the field too long and it came down to too many mistakes.

Michigan vs. Northwestern October 5, 1996
Player Quotes

Northwestern's Darnell Autry on team chemistry:

We have confidence and faith in ourselves and we acknowledge that we have the talent.

Northwestern's Pat Fitzgerald on the second half:

We played with confidence and went out to make the big play and not let them come at us.

Michigan's David Bowen's

On wanting to "pay back" Northwestern:

Not only that, it's a Big 10 game. The road to Pasadena comes through here. We prepared hard and it just slipped away.

On pressuring Steve Schnur (NU quarterback):

We had pressure, but not relentless pressure. He had time to hit receivers.

On not downing the punt at the one-yard line near the end of the game:

I thought we had it down, but they still went 80 yards to score.

Michigan's Thomas Guynes

On if he felt the game 'slipping away':

No. It was time to step up and we just didn't.
