

In the following sentences:

- Underline all complement clauses
(double underline all subject complement clauses).
- Boldface all relative clauses
- Italicize all non-finite verb phrases.

Example 1: I hate to tell you that he's spent all the money you gave him.

Example 2: For anyone that loves you to tell you that is very difficult.

1. Mary thinks that anyone she likes would be a good person to elect President.
2. I hope nobody we know has to appear in court before filing a motion.
3. The man who appeared in the picture has nothing to worry about.
4. The woman I know didn't want anybody to worry about her getting the job.
5. I doubt the people that it was intended for saw the movie he made.
6. When I'm in town, I like to see what the politicians think we're up to.
7. Nobody knows what trouble the man we told you about is in.
8. Anybody who tells you you have to leave should be easy for you to ignore.
9. She thinks the man you're supporting is far too liberal for anybody to vote for.
10. The family she grew up in needs to get ready to accept her back as a member.